Please find below the total spend on English to Welsh translations via external companies.

2020-2021	£73,412.15

2. The number of translators you have on staff

There are no dedicated translators employed within the Health Board and no current roles that include translation within their Job Descriptions.

However, the Health Board are aware of Welsh speaking staff within divisions who at times undertake simple translations for their division/department if they have the capability/capacity. This is done if it is a small piece of work or a simple translation.
