What is see on symptom or SOS?

See on symptom or SOS is a way of putting you in control. It provides you with direct access to guidance when you need it most.

Research has shown that many patients no not require regular follow-up after a plan of care has been put in place. However, some people may experience anxiety if regular contact has been withdrawn.

The SOS for the Gynaecology service offers a six-month period of open access to the service based on your original presenting complaint. After your six-month SOS you will be discharged from the service. This leaflet will help you decide when you should get in touch with us.

The six-month access expires six months from today's appointment.

After six months you will need to contact your GP to be referred back to the Gynaecology service should you experience any problems or symptoms relating to another condition.
